

Moore Tracts 440 Acres, Kenai Peninsula County, Alaska, 440.00 Acres

$440,000

- Agriculture, Big Game, Equestrian, House, Off-Road, Upland Bird, Wildlife Viewing

440 acres of beautiful Alaskan wilderness on the southern Kenai Peninsula close to the village of Nikolaevsk. The large size of this parcel makes it perfect for a ranch, farmstead, or private retreat. Plenty of wildlife in the area including moose and black bear makes for great hunting right on the property. Fantastic fishing is close-by on the Anchor River and in Cook Inlet.

Thirty one years ago my parents made the decision to bring our family to Alaska. It all started with a vacation, and turned into a life style of many exciting and wonderful experiences! I have been able to pursue my passions of fishing, hunting and hiking. At age fourteen I was commercial fishing all over the state and also working in the family construction business. After having my own contracting business I transitioned into the real estate profession and have really found my niche. I can earn my living doing what I love - hiking and traveling around the state helping my neighbors with their real property needs while introducing new-comers to the most naturally beautiful place in the world - Alaska. My background in construction and personal knowledge of the vast state of Alaska have been valuable in my success in the field of real estate.
