The Diamond T Ranch is a rare opportunity. The ranch is located along the banks of the Big Hole River, just one mile north of the small agricultural town of Melrose, MT. A mile long stretch of the famed waters traverse 314 +/- acres of lush river bottom and irrigated hay ground. Exceptional water rights combined with productive ground under 3 pivots, and several wheel & hand lines are producing 750 tons of hay per year. An additional 181 +/- acres of foothills to the Pioneer Mountains, adjacent to BLM, puts the ranch just shy of 500 total acres loaded with recreational opportunity. The Big Hole River holds nearly 3,000 trout per mile; an angler's dream! A healthy variety of wildlife also call this ranch home. Perhaps the most stunning feature of this ranch is the 5 bedroom, 5 bathroom custom home that is nestled thoughtfully in the Southeast corner of the property.
